

CROSS COUNTRY SKI TRAILS

● EASIEST

● MORE DIFFICULT MOST

● DIFFICULT

★ MAP LOCATIONS

● WHISPERING PINES TRAIL

● SNOWSHOES TRAIL ONLY

- Please watch for objects and overhanging branches on the trails
- If unfamiliar with trails, please take this trail map with you on your trek!
- DO NOT SKI ON LAKES - Ice may be unsafe.

TRAIL DESCRIPTIONS

- All Trails are groomed for both classical and skate styles.
- Whispering Pines Trail is a nice beginner to intermediate trail 8K long.
- Deep Woods Trail is an intermediate to expert trail with rolling hills 1.6K long.
- Finland Trail provides the intermediate to expert skier 2.1K of varied terrain.
- Joseph Moo Trail is 2.3K of gentle rolling hills and scenic woods. SNOWSHOES ONLY
- Isaac Shortcut is .75K beginner trail that cuts off about 2K from Whispering Pines.
- Cranberry Shortcut is .50K beginner trail that cuts off Deep Woods and about 1.5K of Whispering Pines.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

- Trails are in 4 townships on over 800 acres. The corner post of the 4 townships is located within Andes Tower Hill.
- The old Red River Trail is now part of these trails.
- Ruins of early settlers are still evident in several places along the trail.
- Because this is the highest elevation, early surveyors built a tower on the summit and used for surveying the area. This early land survey was completed in 1904. Surveying crews today still use the same point of reference. As recent as 1984 a surveying crew put up a tower for surveying purposes. This is how Tower Hill got it's name.

